

LaSH-Sponsored NRCHA Judging Clinic Registration

National Reined Cow Horse Assoc. - Judging Clinic with Bill Enk
Holiday Inn Hotel & Suites Lafayette North
Lafayette, LA
February 25 & 26, 2017

LaSH is sponsoring a Judging Clinic in order to help our judges, who are mostly cutting judges, learn to judge reined cow horse events. The Clinic will cover all aspects of a typical reined cow horse event – cow work, herd work, and reining. One of our goals is to have our judges qualified to judge reined cow horse events.

Bill Enk conducted a clinic for LaSH in 2013. The participants that attended the first clinic have expressed a desire and a need for another clinic in order for our members to have an opportunity to gain valuable insight into what judges are looking for in judging our events. As an exhibitor—become aware of what our judges are looking for in a cutting, working cow, and reining run and where points are earned or lost.

Bill Enk has been the NRCHA Director of Judges since January 2003. Enk, an NRCHA Judge for over 25 years, is also a National Cutting Horse Association, American Quarter Horse Association, American Paint Horse Association, USA Equestrian, and National Reining Horse Association judge. A lifelong horseman, Enk worked as a trainer. He and his wife, Colleen, own and operate River Ranch outside Paso Robles, California. His goals include increasing the standards for and consistency of judging reined cow horses.
